➤ Monetary Base

The monetary base reached 12,046.2 trillion rials in November 2024, experiencing a growth rate of 10.3 percent compared with March 2024. The twelve-month growth rate of monetary base reached 20.7 percent in November 2024, down by 17.5 percentage points compared with the revised figure of the monetary base growth in November 2023 (38.2 percent).

Based on the stipulation of the CBI's General Meeting of 2022/23 regarding the revaluation of foreign assets (based on their quality) and liabilities, the financial statements on the assets and liabilities of the CBI for 2023/24 were revised in March 2024. Meanwhile, to ensure consistency with the international standards, the CBI has revised the classification of monetary base components in line with the IMF's Monetary and Financial Statistics Manual and Compilation Guide (MFSMCG, 2016) and the principle of economic territory. Accordingly, the figures related to the monetary base and its components have been revised as of March 2021.

During April-November 2024, the net foreign assets (NFAs) of the CBI were the major factor increasing the monetary base. The NFAs of the CBI had an increasing share of 38.9 percentage points in the growth of the monetary base in November 2024 as compared with March 2024. The main reason behind the increase in the net foreign assets of the CBI in 2024 was the rise in the revaluation rate. Meanwhile, the public debt to the CBI (net) had a positive share of 8.4 percentage points in the 10.3 percent growth of the monetary base in November 2024 compared with March 2024. The main factor behind the increase in the public debt to the CBI (net) in November 2024 as compared with March 2024 was the rise in government debt to the CBI. The most important factor decreasing the monetary base in November 2024 compared with March 2024 was the other items of the CBI (net) with a share of -33.4 percentage points in monetary base growth. Another factor decreasing the monetary base in November 2024 compared with March 2024 was banks' debt to the CBI with a share of -3.6 percentage points.
